

Dear Mr. Mustermann,

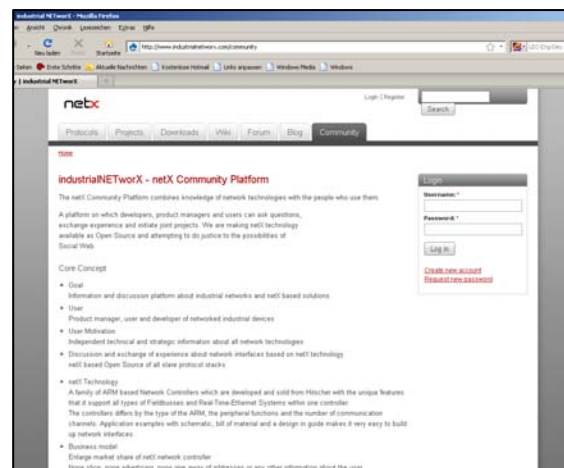

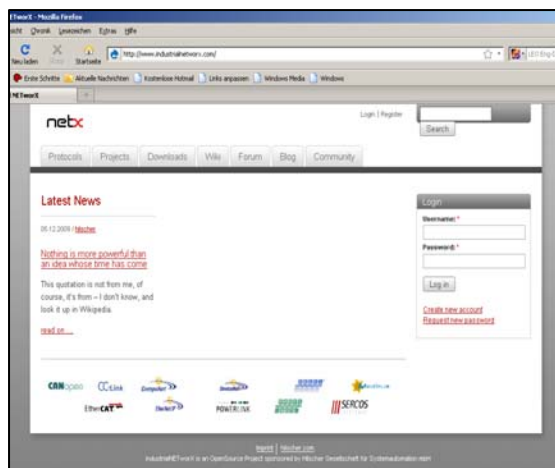

Right at the beginning of the year, Hilscher is proud to present a new highlight in the field of industrial communication and Web 2.0 media.

netX Community – www.industrialNETworX.com
Information and discussion platform on industrial networks and solutions based on netX

The netX Community Platform is targeting product managers, operators and developers of automation devices.

Highlights

- Independent technical and strategic information about all network technologies
- Exchanging ideas on network interfaces based on netX technology
- Slave protocol stacks, Board Support Packages and other tools as Open Source (based on netX)
- No costs, no ads and no disclosure of addresses and information of members
- The netX community platform is sponsored by Hilscher

Launch of the first netX Community Day on 25 March 2010 during the Automatisierungstreff-workshop in Boeblingen, Germany

During the workshop Hilscher will present architecture, function, interfaces of the protocol stacks and tools which you can download from the netX Community Platform. Hilscher developers explain how to implement and use the protocol stacks in your own application or on other operating systems.
